

COURSES

Basic Electrical Awareness

Course Code:	M/D/029
Course Aims:	A first port call for anyone wanting a career in electrics. This course will provide you with an essential fundamental awareness.
Suitable For:	Everyone
Duration:	1 Day
Location:	Met-UK, Rotherham
Accrediting Body:	In House

Course Outline

Course Content:

This course highlights basic electrical safety and identifies any possible future training requirements.

What is electricity, its uses and methods of control.

Common electrical accidents/incidents, how they occur and basic first aid practices following an electrical related accident

How common accidents/incidents may be avoided.

Demonstration of how to undertake safe isolation of electrical supplies

An understanding of basic testing requirements relating to alteration/installation work on electrical supplies & the statutory documentation required when this work is carried out by contractors etc.

Employee & employer responsibilities.

Further Courses

Tutor's Comments